Volunteer and Learning Opportunity

The Ho-Chunk Nation Department of Agriculture received a Natural Resources Conservation Services (NRCS) reimbursable grant for three 30' x 96' high tunnels. If you have experience building high tunnels, consider lending a helping hand. If you are new to high tunnel building but may be interested in setting up your own, come learn more. Please join us for one or all four days at Whirling Thunder Ranch. You'll help build the green houses, learn more about growing in high tunnels, be connected to NRCS opportunities, and learn about walk-behind BCS tractors.

Sign up is through Wisconsin Tribal Conservation Advisory Council (WTCAC).

Limited travel reimbursements available for Tribal staff and partners through WTCAC.
